

InFusion Trio the Looperband

Unique sound, peculiar orchestration, and one of a kind technical realisation on a global level. These are the characteristics of the InFusion Trio, that was formed in december, 2011. Its members are qualified classical musicians, proficient in both classical and popular music.

The InFusion Trio's peculiarity lies primarily in the unique choice of their instruments. The electric violin, the electric cello, the bass guitar, the synthesizer and the electronic drum connected to effects pedals create an exceptionally original sound field. Another crucial innovation is the utilization of looper pedals, which can record and multiply themselves on the spot. The end result provides a fascinating concert experience as the audience can follow the buildup of loops and the gleesome, virtuosic, lighthearted play of the musicians.

Repertoire

The InFusionTrio's repertoire moves on an exceptionally wide scale. Their music occupies the middle ground between modern popular music and classical music.

They have adapted the songs of popular performers, such as those of Ed Sheeran, Calvin Harris, Imagine Dragons, Michael Jackson, David Guetta, John Newman or Depeche Mode, as well as the masterpieces of the greatest classical composers, like Beethoven, Mozart, Bach, Béla Bartók or Shostakovich, and converged them to the present-day sense of taste. In addition, the lineup of their concerts include their own compositions, as well as the adaptations of breathtakingly beautiful Hungarian folk songs.

Through their performances we can embark on an astonishingly special musical journey.
